

Tim Walsh
Professional Bio

Tim Walsh is an addictions professional, educator and recovery coach with over twenty years experience specializing in working with young adults, adolescents and their families. Tim's unique blend of personal recovery, addictions training, adventure-based counseling and program development experience make him a dynamic and well-rounded influence for change.

Tim has served as Executive Director of Mountainside Treatment Center for the past four years as well as the Founder and Director of their Adventure Based Counseling program. Tim has held positions with the Mountain Workshop as Program and Staff Development Director creating protocols and trainings for outdoor leadership programs. He has also worked as an ongoing consultant and former Youth Director for the New Canaan Congregation Church youth programs.

Tim has consulted and developed substance abuse awareness programs for private schools, youth development programs and national conferences. His unique model engages young people in a dynamic solutions-based conversation on the topic of substance abuse awareness.

As an accomplished Outdoor Educator, Tim has led expeditions throughout the Northeast as Senior Guide for the Mountain Workshop, various YMCA camps and school-based wilderness programs.
